DaDaFest Libraries Commission

An easy read guide

Introduction

In August 2020 DaDaFest will give 1 grant to a professional disabled artist or organisation run by disabled people.

A grant is money you get from an organisation to pay for something you need. The biggest amount you can ask for is £2,500.

The grant is for people to make brilliant pieces of art, art projects or performances.

About DaDaFest

DaDaFest is an organisation that supports and shows work by deaf and disabled artists.

DaDaFest runs a festival every two years. This year it will be an online festival for people to watch at home.

ST HELENS
BOROUGH COUNCIL

The money for the grants also comes from an arts programme that does events in libraries in the town of St Helens. It is called Cultural Hubs.

Who can apply?

You can be from anywhere in the world.

Your project must be made by a professional disabled artist or organisation run by disabled people.

Your project

Your artwork could be dance, theatre, sculpture, film, photography or any other type of art you choose.

If you are successful your project will go in our online festival or events, so it must be something you can share online.

It should say something about the idea of 'Translations' because that is what the festival is about this year.

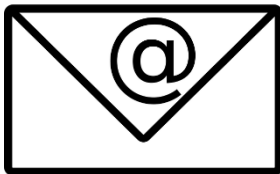

It should also say something about the idea of 'Libraries' because it will be shown be part of St Helens' library programme.
